Small Business Assistance and Support

RVCDF encourages all business owners to regularly sharpen business skills, learn about technologies that could improve business operations, and keep up with innovations in their industries. In particular businesses seeking loans or credit can improve their impression to lenders of being a good risk when they demonstrate that they understand their finances and can explain their business strategy.

To that end, RVCDF will assist Rainier Valley businesses located on the light rail alignment access both financing and training.

Community Capital Development (CCD), a Seattle based small business development entity offers numerous training courses that can benefit small businesses.

For information class calendars and registration information contact CCD:

Web site: www.seattleccd.com
Email: info@seattleccd.com
Phone: 206/324-4430, extension 100

For CCD courses with registration fees in excess of $50, RVCDF will pay up to the next $100 in registration fees for eligible impacted businesses. Reimbursement will be made upon completion of the course. RVCDF will consider similar arrangements for other training providers as well, if you are interested in such a course please bring it to our attention.
